Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

This little building is located at the intersection of Old Town Road and Thanksgiving Lane. It is set on a molded concrete block foundation. It is built of wood framing and sheathed with beveled weatherboards. There is a hipped asphalt shingle roof. The double-door entrance is flanked by new single-pane windows. An original sash on the back of the structure is two-over-two double-hung. On the side walls, false corner boards suggest that the building has been extended forward. If that is the case, then the hipped roof is also an addition.
